AQUALUTION™

WATER EVOLVED

The Next Evolution In Paint Systems

Aqualution™ is a new high performance waterborne basecoat system designed to provide you with outstanding color match, high quality materials and the exceptional performance you have come to expect from Matrix System in an environmentally friendly package designed to meet future VOC challenges.

Water is mother nature's most abundant resource. Improving our ecology and reducing our chemical footprint on the environment are becoming increasingly important every day. In order to continue this trend, both the National Rule and each State's Legislature will no doubt continue to decrease the allowable VOC limits set for the automotive refinish industry.

Aqualution waterborne basecoat is our first step towards meeting the VOC challenges of the future. 66 specialized toners and pearls combine to provide the user with a viable alternative to solvent borne paint systems by utilizing today's proven OEM technologies.
